DON'T STOP MY PAPER.

Don't stop my paper, printer,
Don't strike my name off yet;
You know the times are stringent
And dollars hard to get:
But tug a little harder
Is what I mean to do,
And scrape the dimes together,
Enough for me and you.

I can't afford to drop it,
I find it doesn't pay
To do without a paper,
However others may;
I hate to ask my neighbors
To give me theirs on loan;
They don't just say—but mean it—
Why don't you have your own?

A Touching Scene.

Of the late Czar Nicholas, "A Russian Nihilist" tells in the North American Review a striking story. A young student, a relative of the writer, had, with a few friends, formed a literary society in which the works of contemporary political economists, publicists and philosophers were read and debated. The secret police denounced this society as a revolutionary organization, and the young student was imprisoned and condemned to Siberia. All possible influence was brought to bear upon the Czar, but in vain, and at last the young man's mother, meeting the czar one day in the summer garden, knelt and implored her son's pardon, asserting his innocence. The czar seem touched, and promised to give the youth a personal interview. The latter was brought to his majesty the next day, and the czar forcing him on his knees before an image of the Saviour, exclaimed: "Can you swear before the Almighty God that neither you nor your associates had any criminal design against my life? Can you swear that you believe in the holiness and eternity of the Russian autocracy?" The surprised prisoner answered: "I can swear to your majesty that neither I nor any of my friends had the remotest idea against your safety. As to the autocratic form of government, I cannot conscientiously swear that I believe in its eternity. The history of other countries teaches us that the time must come even in Russia, when the people itself will take part in the government." The czar tenderly embraced the student, and giving a ring drawn from the imperial finger, said: This is a token of respect from your czar. You have been sincere and truthful to me, and there is nothing I hate so much as a lie." He then approached the writing table where lay the student's sentence of exile, and with one stroke of the pen—signed the paper! "I pity you from the bottom of my heart," he said, "you are an honest man, and an honest man, true to his convictions, is more dangerous to autocracy than an unprincipled rascal. Therefore, I must punish you, though never was this duty more painful to me than now. God bless you my son, and judge me mercifully if I should appear to be in the wrong." Then, once more embracing the student he dismissed him to Siberia.

CLERGYMAN: "No, my dear, it is impossible to preach any kind of a sermon to such a congregation of asses." Smart young lady: "And is that why you call them 'Dearly beloved brethren.'"

NEVER keep your manners for company, but be as p lite at home as you try to be abroad.

GRAND EXCURSION TO CHICAGO.

Only $5.00 from Decatur to Chicago and return, to enable every one to attend the greatest musical event of the 19th century, the Grand Sangerfest of the North American Sangerbund, to be held at the exposition building, June 29th, 30th, July 1st, 2d and 3d. Seven grand concerts, a mighty chorus of 2,000 singers, and a grand orchestra of 150 artists. Among the soloists will be Mme. Peschka-Leutner, Germany's greatest soprano, Miss Annie Louise Cary, and Mr. Myron W. Whitney. Grand picnic at Wright's Grove, Sunday, July 3d.

In addition to the above attractions, the summer running meeting of the Chicago Driving Park will be held from June 28th until July 9th inclusive, giving visitors an opportunity of witnessing races between some of the most noted horses of the American turf.

Excursion tickets will be sold for the regular trains of June 27th and July 1st inclusive, good to return on regular trains [which stop at Decatur] up to and including July 5th.

ECLECTRICOIL AMONG BASE BALLISTS.

Joseph Durrinberger, Broadway, says he had the misfortune to severely sprain his ankle, confining him to his room and causing extreme suffering. His brother Leesee, of the K. Side L. B. grounds, who always uses it on such occasions, induced him to try it, and he says that the application of the Eclectric Oil half a dozen times enabled him to walk around and before he had used one-third of the bottle he was quite recovered.

If Adam had had a game of "fifteen" placed in his hands at an early period of his existence the whole course of history might have been materially altered for the better, and if biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, or dyspepsia were unknown, Spring Blossom would not be needed. Prices: $1., 50 cents, and trial bottles 10 cents.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 27, 1881.

We'll have no coal famine in Decatur next winter.

The big C's—the Comet and the Coal shaft.

The play of "Black Diamonds," put upon the boards in the fifth ward yesterday, drew an immense audience of all sorts of people, and gave the greatest satisfaction to all who were present.

And are we to have no Fourth of July in Decatur this year? The successful completion of our coal shaft ought to furnish an additional reason for celebrating our national holiday this year.

Conkling was in Washington on Saturday, but as he must have known that the president was at "the Brawneh," it is fair to presume that he did not make his visit to the capital with any intention of consulting with the head of the government on the Albany muddle.

The gossips who have been busy in concocting reports of the personal coolness between Grant and Garfield will probably not be taken back much by the news that the former called to pay his respects to the latter at his reception on Saturday at Long Branch. Such creatures never learn anything by experience, but go on fixing up new stories as soon as the old one is exploded. The world would be a very dull place without the gossips.

Over in Iowa the Republicans are having a spirited contest over the nomination for governor, to be made by the convention which meets at Des Moines on Wednesday of this week. The reports are somewhat conflicting—somewhat like those which preceded the last state convention of Illinois—but as near as we can get at it the fight is chiefly between Sherman and Larrabee, with chances pretty evenly divided between them, but neither having a majority of the one thousand delegates of which the convention will be composed. But inasmuch as the Republicans have well on to 80,000 majority in the state, the dangers that arise from a family quarrel are not very formidable.

Bloomington, Ill., June 25.—Senator David Davis left for Springfield in answer to a telegram requesting his presence at the bedside of Mrs. Lincoln, widow of President Lincoln. Senator Davis was executor of the estate of Mr. Lincoln, and it is thought the object of his visit is of a business character, Mrs. Lincoln being desirous of making arrangements for the disposition of her property.

A New York Sun special from Long Branch, dated Friday, says: The president and Gen. Grant have met at last. The president and his wife and boy were just starting out for a drive at 5 o'clock. Gen. Grant at the same interesting moment chanced to be strolling over the lawn at his son Jesse's cottage. He was going toward the roadway as the president's carriage passed. The salute which was exchanged was spontaneous, simultaneous, and to all outward appearances, cordial, though not familiar. The president drove on, and the general resumed his stroll. The news of the meeting and the greeting was abroad in an instant. Now, let us have peace.

The best writers of the European press are noting our protective tariff as one cause of the large prosperity of the United States. The condition of the English and French manufacturers is not enviable, and some of the most sagacious are contemplating a removal of both machinery and skilled workmen to the United States. A large manufacturer has recently been in Chicago and selected the site for an extensive factory, and at no distant date the hum of British spindles will be heard upon our prairies. Here is where the goods are wanted; the wool is here, and nothing is lacking to make the United States the greatest manufacturing country on the globe.—Inter-Ocean.

The Louisville Courier-Journal thinks that if "Americans were allowed to buy cheap iron in England, the farmer would pay less for his plow and spade and reaper, and less for railroad transportation, as roads would cost less." We tried that experiment with Robert J. Walker's tariff in 1846, though we didn't get the full good of it for two or three years after. When the "tariff for revenue only" went into operation, we had enough blast furnaces at work to make a yield of pig iron that held British prices in check. The change killed them all, and British pig, which had been sold down to $19 a ton, was put up to $25. There was no competition to hold it down. So that there is no sure thing in low prices of English manufactures, if our competing manufactures are killed to please a whim of certain "closet" theorists, who have laid down infallible principles of political economy by speculation, and logically built a free trade system on them that makes mischief wherever it is tried. The English are grumbling about it themselves. Russia stood it four or five years after Storch introduced it, and then Nesselrode told the world in a diplomatic circular that she could not have the life ground out of her industries by cheap English goods, and in 1824 she returned to protective duties. Prussia abandoned protection in 1815, because it was Napoleon's policy. The change ruined farmer as well as manufacturer, and in 1818 the duties had to be restored. Now the London Times, looking at the prosperity of France and this country, both living and working under systems more or less protective, says that "English free trade notions are seriously disturbed." And there is a good deal of "back talk" at the established system which has ruined more than one valuable industry, and threatens them all. "Free trade" is a pretty theory, and soaked full of what the Germans call "world love" and universal sweetness; but it doesn't pay. It murders the enterprise of unskilled nations, and keeps them unskilled to the last. No nation has ever tried it long but England, and she is getting exceedingly sick of it.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Farmers' club of Pennsylvania, an organization composed of twleve of the most conspicuous agriculturists of that commonwealth, assisted on the 9th of June at the "house-warming" of Mr. George W. Childs' new and spacious farm-house at Wootton, near Philadelphia. The dinner was one of those plain, substantial meals that Mr. and Mrs. Childs are noted for giving. On the table were flower plats, candelabra, wine coolers of gold and silver, and glass ornaments of great beaty. In the course of the entertainment twenty-two plates of different kinds of decorated porcelain were placed before each guest, no two alike. Eight glasses to a guest were filled at different times with various vintages. Terrapin was served in a little fluted nest, like Charlotte-Russe. Oranges were scooped out and filled with cream and then the piece restored and the whole arrangement frozen. Several vegetables were served together in an artistic arrangement of colors, with browned potatoes as a base, embroidered with tomatoes, and a sea-foam arrangement of spinach on top. There was a waiter for each guest. As might be supposed, there was all the vivacity of spirit and grace of conversation that usually marks the intercourse of men who are earnest tillers of the soil, such men as farmer Simon Cameron; farmer Senator Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware; farmer Speaker Samuel J. Randall; farmer John Welsh, late a diplomatist; farmer Wayne MacVeagh; farmer Senator J. Donald Cameron; farmer Lippincott, the publisher; farmer McKean, who sows so many useful seeds in the Ledger—and several railway and bank presidents and other celebrities who are never so happy as when they flee away from money-grubbing to meet and talk of the beautiful bean, the consolatory corn, the pleasant pea, the toothsome tomato, the opulent onion, the priceless potato, and discuss the value of newly-invented agricultural apparatus, the prospects as to "craps," the glucose iniquity, or the objectionable grasshopper. And then it is pleasant to see these horny-handed delvers of the ground when they come to dinner. They are always jejune, and manducate vigorously, and they enjoy that which is poculent without becoming crapulent.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—Ald. Armstrong, Bunn, Gogerty, Hardy, Kuny, Moffit, Shellabarger and Shoemaker. Absent—Bramble and Harwood.

The council proceeded to business, Mayor Waggoner presiding.

A communication was received from Mrs. W. H. Ennis, tendering her resignation as member of the board of directors of the Public Library.

J. R. Race and others petitioned the council to improve Merchant street alley by bouldering. Petition referred to committee on public improvement.

A communication was received from Mr A. Goodman in relation to allowing other parties to tap the tile laid down by him, which was read and placed on file. Ald. Harwood moved that so much of the resolution offered by Ald. Bunn requiring the tile to be connected with tile laid down by Mr. Goodman be rescinded, and that Montgomery and others be required to extend their tile west on Eldorado to Union street, which motion prevailed.

Ald. Hardy offered a resolution authorizing the Street Superintendent to take earth from any of the streets or sidewalks that are above grade, to make sidewalk on south side of William, between Water and Franklin. Adopted.

Ald. Shellabarger offered a resolution requiring the City Engineer to make a survey and estimate of cost of extending the 3d ward sewer to the river.

On motion the council adjourned.

G. P. Hardy, City Clerk.

The Island of Great Britain, by the new census just taken, is found to contain thirty millions of inhabitants. This is an enormous number of souls to be crowded upon a space no larger than Illinois and Indiana, and whose agricultural capabilities are very much less.—Illinois alone, properly farmed, has more food-producing power than England, Scotland and Wales combined, although she now supports only three millions of inhabitants against ten times that number on the British Isle. While Great Britain has increased some four millions during the past decade, the sister island—Ireland—has actually sunk down a quarter of a million. Ireland is considerably more than one-third as large as Great Britain, but has barely one sixth as many inhabitants. The natural capability of Ireland to support her population is fully as great as that of the larger island; but, under the accursed land laws established and enforced by the British government, there is the phenomenon of a poverty-stricken, decaying people gradually wilting and passing away and becoming extinct in the land of their fathers. The English landlords have got in their work on poor Pat.

Gov. Cornell, of New York, has just vetoed a bill passed by the legislature of that state which provided for pensioning the superannuated school teachers of New York City and Brooklyn. The governor's argument was that teachers, in their business, are not exposed to any danger putting their lives in peril, and are at liberty to seek other employment at any time. And yet there is reason to question whether the pensioning of teachers would not have the effect to induce a class of men and women who have a peculiar fitness for that profession to engage in it as a life business, thereby benefitting the cause of education.—Springfield Journal.

Des Moines, Ia., June 26.—All the counties in the state have reported but Calhoun and O'Brien. Twenty-six counties, with 276 delegates, are instructed to vote for Sherman. Of the uninstructed delegates he has 207. Of the 113 unknown delegates, or those from counties having candidates before the convention for other offices, he has at least one-half, which will give him more than the necessary 510 to secure a nomination. The delegates are divided on other candidates as follows: Harlan, 87; Campbell, 51; Kimball, 15. The friends of Larrabee from Dubuque and Davenport are already here, and friends of other candidates will be here to-night. Larrabee and friends will concede to Sherman only the 276 instructed delegates, and claim 305 for Larrabee.

New York, June 26.—Henry Stanberry, attorney general of the United States during part of President Johnson's Administration, died suddenly today at 98 Fifth Avenue, from acute bronchitis. The disease was contracted during a ride in Central Park on Monday last. Since then he has been confined to his bed. The body will be taken to Cincinnati on Tuesday. Stanberry was born in New York City, in February, 1803. In 1813 he went with his father to Zanesville, O.; graduated from Washington College, Pa., in 1819; studied law in Lancaster, O., and was admitted to the bar in 1824; elected attorney general of Ohio in 1847; afterwards practiced law in Cincinnati; resigned the attorney generalship of the United States in 1868 for the purpose of defending the president in his impeachment trial; later a cataract formed upon his eye and his sight became impaired. Since October last he has been totally blind.

San Francisco, June 25.—Frank Braga, secretary of the Portuguese Protective and Benevolent Society, has absconded. He is a defaulter to the amount of $100,000. Braga was a saloon keeper near the city front. He was implicitly trusted by his countrymen, who deposited with him, for safe keeping, investment and stock operations, their savings. He left the city June 16th, ostensibly for Tuoumne county, on business. It is now ascertained that he has made a clean sweep of the money, stocks and bonds of his clients, and even the more valuable furniture of his saloon.

Grant and Garfield Clasp Hands.

The Contest at Albany.

Albany, N. Y., June 25.—In the joint convention the ballot for a successor to ex-Senator Conkling resulted as, follows, combined vote:

Potter (Dem)	32	Cornell	1
Conkling	22	Lapham	10
Wheeler	32	Roach	1

Assemblyman Patterson raised a point of order that a quorum of the senate had not voted.

The chair decided the point of order not well taken, as a quorum of the convention had voted, and declared that there had been no choice.

The convention then proceeded to vote for the filling of the Platt vacancy. When the senate had voted, casting 15 votes, Mr. Murphy raised a point of order that a quorum of that body had not voted.

The chair decided the point could not be raised during roll call. The following is the combined vote:

Depew	34	Crowley	4
Kernan	31	Tremaine	1
Platt	20	Lapham	2
Cornell	5

The chair declared that no choice had been made, and the convention adjourned till Monday.

New York, June 25.—An Albany special says: "A new movement is to be started next week for a party caucus. The felling is becoming more general that the dead-lock cannot be broken until a caucus is held in the regular way, and nominations for senators made, the minority submitting to the majority. If the caucus programme is accepted by both sides, the dead-lock will end next day. At present this seems to be the only chance for reaching the end for months to come."

Long Branch, June 25.—The salute which passed between the president and General Grant last night opened the way for a further greeting to-day. They have shaken hands, and remarked on the prolonged coolness of the weather. The president held an informal reception today in the ladies' parlor of the Elberon. Invitations were sent out to the occupants of the neighboring cottages, and General Grant was especially notified of the opportunity for him to come half way toward a reconciliation. It has been intimated all along that he had intended every evening to call on the president, but he either supposed the president was not at home, or he himself was too tired, or the president was weary, or, for some reason or other, he never came. When to-day's opportunity was given him to pay his respects to the Executive, his absence would have amounted to an affront. The president and Col. Rockwell entered the parlor together at 5:30 o'clock, and were presently joined by Secretary of the Navy Hunt and Postmaster-General James, each accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Garfield was not present. Soon the approaches to Elberon were filled with the sounds of jingling harness and clattering hoofs, and the stylish equipages of the stylish neighborhood drove up to the piazza. Gen. Grant was among the last to call. He drove up in a coupe soon after 6, and entered the parlor alone. "How do you do, Mr. President?" he said. "How do you do, General?" was the president's counter-query. They shook hands cordially. A few words, in a single sentence of commonplace, were uttered by General Grant, and in a moment, what might have been an embarrassing silence, was broken by half a dozen ladies and gentlemen surrounding the ex-president and shaking hands with him. In three minutes by the watch of General Ihrie, of California, formerly of Grant's staff, the ex-president had left the hotel. He walked away and crossed the road to his son Jesse's cottage on foot. There was no opportunity for any exchange of personal or confidential remarks between the two men, and nothing more important than the Long Branch air and scenery was spoken of.

Long Branch, June 26.—President Garfield attended the Episcopal Church this morning. The president passed the greater part of the day with his wife at the hotel. The president, Secretary Hunt and Postmaster General James dined with John Hoey. The secretary and postmaster general were for a time guests of ex-Collector Murphy.

Little, Rock, June 25.—Intelligence from the Indian Nation states that affairs have reached a crisis. The United States cavalry at Fort Sill have been ordered to report to United States Agent Tuffts at Muscogee, to co-operate with the Choctaw militia under Gov. McCurtin in driving out the white intruders and their stock from the country. All those not Indians or intermarried with Indians are classed as intruders under the law, and although many of them have permits to dwell in the nation, it is asserted that their papers were illegally issued, and they will be forced to leave. The Indian militia are in camp near Scullyville, three or four hundred strong, and are under orders to effect a junction with the United States troops at Fort McAllister.

Omaha, Neb., June 25.—Sensation was created by the indictment by the grand jury of four prominent liquor dealers, two of whom are city councilmen, for violation of the Slocum high license law. There is a strong public sentiment against the law, which went into effect the first of June. This is the first step towards enforcing it.

Ottawa, June 25.—Vennor, in a letter to the Citizen this morning, says: I believe that the present summer is one of a triad of similar summers, probably the middle one. It is likely to resemble in its chief features that of 1880, and to differ in some of its minor details. The approaching month of July will give a great deal of rain, as in 1880, over a large portion of the United States and Canada, while in Great Britain the weather will in all probability be likewise stormy and wet. The storms of wind, thunder and lightning are likely to be severe and frequent. The heaviest rains for New York and vicinity would locate after the 20th, and probably on the 21st or 22d dates. Between the 10th and 15th days an exceedingly hot term is to be experienced in both the United States and Canada. Within a few days from the close of the month, probably about the 27th or 28th, a cool wave will occur, carrying frosts in Canada and cold weather generally, with storms of wind and rain throughout the United States. Where storms have been severely felt in the western and southwestern states during June, there also will the severest storms of July be experienced. Notwithstanding these frequent and severe storms during the month, frequent alterations of fine hot weather will counteract to a great extent the damage done to crops in the west. The entrance of July in Canada, and also to a considerble extent in the United States, will be cool and showery, and the present lookout for the fourth is not a very promising one.

New York, June 25.—The Times' Albany special to-night says: "A rumor reached Albany from New York this evening to the effect that Mr. Depew is to be withdrawn during the coming week from the senatorial contest, and that the Hon. Frank Hiscock is to be substituted in his place as a candidate. The report is denied absolutely here to-night by a number of Administration assemblymen. The most important of these denials, however, comes from ex-Lieut. Gov. Alvord, of Syracuse, which district Mr. Hiscock represents in congress. Mr. Alvord says he knows there is not a vestige of foundation for the rumor, and that at or up to this time there has been no thought of withdrawing Depew for anybody. Mr. Alvord went to New York on the steamer Drew to night, this being the first time he has been away from this city since December last, when the new legislature was assembling." Notwithstanding this positive denial from Albany, there is very good ground for believing that there is a foundation for the statement that Mr. Hiscock is to be substituted for Depew.

THERE was a short but spicy session of the Council on Saturday night, when the sewer question was discussed. The 5th ward folks want about $5,000 of the city's funds to build a sewer that is badly needed, and the 4th and 3d ward residents need more than double that amount before they will consent to keep still, and the fun of it is, they all want it at once, and there is only $9,000 in the hands of the treasurer for that sort of public improvement The sewer question is an important one, and for the general health of the city, if for no other reason, the third and fourth ward mains ought to be extended to the river, and thus be made permanent The filth that is now emptied into the branches "smells to heaven" at times, and the stench will grow worse as the branch sewers in the business and residence parts of the city increase in number The fifth ward sewer improvement is also badly needed, and City Clerk Hardy in this issue of the REPUBLICAN advertises for bids to do the work The appropriation next year should be large enough to meet all contingencies in sewer building

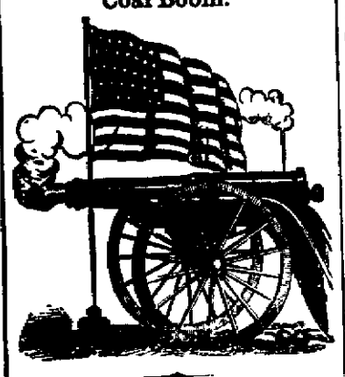
DECATUR'S BIG BONANZA.

Let the Cannon Roar for Our Coal Boom.



A Vein of Good Bituminous Coal, Four Feet Thick, Struck at the Decatur Shaft Last Night

Samples on Exhibition at the Republican Office.

GOOD NEWS AT LAST

It was incorrectly reported on Sunday morning that coal had been struck at the Decatur shaft on Saturday night at ten o'clock The long-expected and hoped for discovery was not made until ten o'clock on Sunday night, June 26th, 1881, at a depth of 608 feet, as shown by Mr J E Bering's boring, made in the fall of 1873 and the spring of 1875 After the vein had been struck, Superintendent White instructed William Clear, one of the experienced miners at the bottom of the deep hole, to drill through the coal, and he did so, finding the vein to be

FOUR FEET TWO INCHES THICK

being eight inches thicker than is shown by the Bering profile The glad news was communicated to Mr White who with the other miners waited anxiously for the result of the drilling to be announced

THE MINERS JOLLITY

This morning the coal shaft operatives erected a flag staff over the tower and unfurled the stars and stripes to the breeze, and otherwise manifested their joy over the 'find" by firing off several anvils in rapid succession They are the happiest body of men one could find in a year's travel, and are working to day with renewed energy, and singing like a troop of converts at a camp meeting was taken out of the shaft from the 'four foot" vein this morning, and samples of it were secured by a REPUBLICAN reporter They are now an exhibition at this office where they may be seen by those who call

THE FIRST COAL

The coal is considered to be an extra quality of bituminous fuel equal to the best shipped here from other mines A portion of it was thrown into the furnace at the shaft this morning in the presence of the writer and others, and it burnt like an oily substance Superintendent White informs our reporter that the vein has a splendid roof of slate, and everything is in good condition to push forward the work of getting ready to mine the "black diamonds" and supply the trade But no coal will be taken out for sale until after the 4th of July The miners will dig through the "four foot,' and sink what they call the "sump" or drain for water, to a depth of 10 feet below the vein, which will make the hoi 618 feet deep, the deepest shaft in the State of Illinois operated by next to the most powerful hoisting machinery The shaft is 7 by 14 in size, and is divided into three apartments Their are two cage roads, each 5 by 7 feet in size and an upcast for air 5 by 7 feet in size When in full operation two cages will be used to bring up the coal from the dark depths below The new hoisting machinery which was recently made at Litchfield, is the very best in use, and is of the most improved pattern They rest upon solid foundations, and in due time will be covered with a substantial brick structure — Some delay will be occasioned in taking out the coal for delivery on account of the fact that a new and more substantial tower will have to be built over the shaft and suitable coal shutes constructed, all while all this is being done the miners will proceed with the work of constructing the 'sump' and driving it like the other portion of the shaft, which is built in the most substantial manner from top to bottom

In this connection it may not be inappropriate to give a brief history of the important undertaking which has resulted so successfully, the determined managers overcoming all obstacles which have been set them In the beginning Mr Frank Frorer, of Lincoln, agreed to sink a shaft If the city of Decatur would agree to give him $2,000 for every 100 feet of the shaft sunk The city accepted his proposition and Frorer gave bonds in the sum of $20,000, and he has received $10 000 in cash from the city, which he has agreed to return to the city in coal, delivered at the water works On June 1st, 1879 ground was broken for the old shaft, which was sunk to a depth of 119 feet, Superintendent Charles J White having charge of the work In the fall of that year the old shaft, though substantially built, caved in at a depth of 80 feet on account of the strong current of water which broke the heavy timbers and made a total wreck of the hole The work was then abandoned, but nothing daunted, on April 23, 1880, Mr Frorer commenced digging the present shaft near the old one, and pushed forward the work as rapidly as the weather and annoying mishaps would permit Since the search for coal began on June 1st, 1880, two years and 26 days have been devoted to the work It took 14 months and three days to sink the new shaft 608 feet, and the estimated cost of both, including a portion of the permanent machinery, labor, loss by caving in of old shaft, repairs, and by the fire several weeks ago, is estimated at not less than $55,000.

The shaft will be operated by an incorporated company, whose members are Frank Frorer, Charles J. White, D H Harts and Henry Brammell, capital stock, $100,000.

AN ESCAPE SHAFT

Under the state law the managers of the coal shaft will have to sink another within two years, not less than a half mile distant from the present shaft, which will be known as the "escape shaft," and will be used by the miners in case any accident should occur while they are down in the mine Supt White says the second shaft will be sunk at once, probably on the line of some other railroad, but that matter is yet undetermined

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?

The coal find is a big bonanza for our city in many respects. It furnishes good and cheap fuel at our very doors, and removes forever all objections to Decatur as one of the greatest manufacturing centers in the west. We have long had an inexhaustible supply of water, we have the best of railroad facilities furnishing every possible convenience to shippers, and now we have COAL, and plenty of it for home use and perhaps enough to supply a part of the foreign demand And it will not be at all surprising if numerous rival shafts are sunk in different parts of the city within the next few years, now that it has been demonstrated beyond cavil that there are beds of coal in paying quantities beneath our feet There is already talk of sinking a shaft near Dr. Johns' residence

The manufacturers and all citizens of Decatur should join in a grand jollification over the coal find and banquet Mr Frorer, Mr White, and the daring miners who have given our city such a big boost in a commercial sense. It is an important epoch in our history that calls for some sort of a demonstration Why not "kill two birds with one stone and celebrate Decatur's coal find on July 4th? If this meets with general approval let a meeting of citizens be called to make proper arrangements A big procession with a column of Decatur coal on a wagon, followed by the military, fire department and Decatur mechanics in line, wouldn't be a bad idea

Mrs. C. H. Moore's Departure for Callao.

This noon Mrs Nellie Johns Moore, wife of Lieut C B Moore, of the U S Navy, took her departure for New York, where she will join General and Mrs J H Moore, and take her departure in the steamer Acapulco for Lima, Peru, her future home Her parents, relatives and a large number of friends were at the Union depot to bid her a last farewell and wish her happiness in her new home among strange people The steamer will leave New York on June 30th and the party will arrive at the port of Callao about July 21st Lieut Moore will have charge of the government supply steamer at Callao, and will join the family at that place in due season

Mrs Moore, who has been a bright ornament in Decatur society, was tendered a fashionable farewell reception at the elegant residence of Mr and Mrs L Burrows, on West North street, on Saturday evening Those present were Hon and Mrs B K Durfee, Mrs Judge Thornton, Hon and Mrs W B Chambers, Dr and Mrs H C Johns, ex-Gov Oglesby, Mr and Mrs W J Quinlan, Mrs Sedgwick, Mrs Vennigerholz, Miss Bessie Jones and Pitt Jones, of London, Ohio, Miss Moses and Dick Dodd, of Springfield, Walter Bashforth, of Quincy Mr Lufkin, of Bloomington Charles F Armstrong, of Chicago, Prof Dwight, of Jacksonville, the Misses Louie, Ida and Hattie Jones, Cora Elwood, Dollie Milliken, Olive Oglesby, Mollie Barnes, Flora Race, Nellie Durfee and Ida Bering, and Messrs Mark Oliver, J W Clugston, W. C Johns, Charles W Challis, O E Curtis, H W Osborn, Albert Barnes, Geo A Challis, A L Johnson, Wilson Bering, W M Boyd, W E Bishop, and others The occasion was thoroughly delightful The fleeting hours before 12 were given up to dancing, for which Prof Goodman's orchestra supplied the music The refreshments were in keeping with the pleasant affair

A Disputed Honor.

Two simultaneous dispatches have been received by Prof Swift of the Warner Observatory at Rochester, N Y, by which it appears that another great comet has been discovered Prof Sharpless, of Haverford College, Pennsylvania, states that L T. Edwards saw it with the naked eye on the morning of June 23d, and Mr Edgar L Larkin, of New Windsor, Ill, also reports seeing it and that it is vast It seems probable that the tail is not less than 15 deg in length, while the head is as bright as Jupiter The new comet is located in the constellation of Auriga, about eight deg from Capella, and it is not improbable that it may be the much expected comet of 1812, which should appear not far from that locality As the two dispatches were received in Rochester simultaneously, there is some question as to whether the honor of the discovery and the Warner prize of $200, belong to Mr Edwards or Mr Larkin E G Tucker of Decatur, claims to have seen the new comet first on the morning of Wednesday June 22d If he can establish his claim he is entitled to the $300 prize

Look Before You Leap.

A writer in the New York Evening Post puts it this way. When a man chooses the profession of law he does not expect to be a musician and journalist also; he knows that if he would succeed he must devote himself to the one chosen calling. When a woman marries she realizes that in order to reach lofty heights in wife and motherhood she must sacrifice lesser aims. She must be willing to lay aside the delightful occupations which have made her girlhood pleasant, she must know that from the hour when her baby is laid in the little cradle, dressed with loving forethought, to the darker hour when the mature man lies down in his last sleep, that she will give full meaning to the words, 'constant care.' That her mind once unfettered will be at liberty no more, but is bound by ties stronger than life or death to those who have come to her from out the great unknown. Wait a while, girls, think it all over before you promise to become wives—to take these duties and burdens upon you. Sweet and satisfying as are the obligations of wife and mother, they are not to be taken lightly. A husband must not be looked upon as a sort of perpetual beau, and children as extremely uncertain and improbable adjuncts. Unless like Wilhelm Meister, your apprenticeship ended, you reach out of yourself and ask for larger duties for a wider field of labor, you had better stay at home with father and mother, dignifying the relation of daughter, filling the old established home with the mild radiance which would seem but a dim light in a new one.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Prices, 10cts, 50cts and $1. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back Lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster.

The Traveler Who Wisely Provides

Against the contingency of illness by taking with him Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has occasion to congratulate himself on his foresight, when he sees others who have neglected to do so suffering from some one of the maladies for which it is a remedy and preventive. Among these are fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and rheumatism, diseases often attendant upon a change of climate or unwonted diet.
